Partners in Science

Partners in Science comprises the Houston Museum of Natural Science’s (HMNS) premier corporate donor society whose generous contributions help sustain the Museum’s mission to promote science education in local communities. All funding supports HMNS’s Education programming, which provides over 500,000 students and educators annually with a vibrant catalog of year-round experiences—field trips, science labs, outreach events, summer camps, Scouts programming, the Girls Exploring Math and Science event, professional development trainings, and more. These experiences serve not only to provide individuals from all backgrounds with access to enriching educational resources, but they also work to prepare the future workforce of technical industries.
